

Marilyn Greenberg Jazz Series

Warm-up act:
local guitarist Toty Viola
<http://www.totyviola.com>

Friday, August 20, 2010
8 pm

Jazz Art

Marilyn Greenberg
Jazz Series

the Joshua Breakstone Trio

"The style in which Joshua develops his fluid single-note solos used to be thought of as the Grant Green school, but now this man leads the school."

Jazz Hihyo, Tokyo, Japan

"Fire in velvet. A fitting description of Joshua Breakstone's jazz guitar."

The Santa Fe New Mexican,
Paul Weidman

"There is no shortage of young, knock-out jazz guitarists about us these days. And Joshua Breakstone is among the best of them."

Downbeat

Mr. Breakstone attended the Berklee College of Music and graduated with a degree in jazz studies. From there he began studying in Manhattan with Sal Salvador.

For more than twenty years he has had an active recording career, as well as worked as a teacher, both privately and at the Rhode Island Conservatory of Music. His style is exciting, new and full of finesse.

*The concert will be held at the San Luis Obispo Museum of Art 1010 Broad Street, West end of Mission Plaza, San Luis Obispo

*Tickets available in advance at BooBoo Records and the
San Luis Obispo Museum of Art

$15 students
$20 Jazz Federation and
Art Museum members
$22 general admission
$25 at the door

SAN LUIS OBISPO
museum of art

www.sloma.org

805.543.8562